WATER

Evian Lacroix Still (750ml)	$10
This limited edition Evian bottle, designed by French fashion icon Christian Lacroix, signifies the brand's dedication to chic sophistication
Wattwiller Still (500ml)	$10
Its pedigree dates back to Roman times, with the source ultimately controlled by the monks of the Abbey of Murbach in 735 AD. With salty aftertaste, this elite water delivers terrific calcium, magnesium, sulphate, and fluoride
Lauretana Still (750ml)	$10
Lauretana proclaims this is the most microbiologically pure, natural drinking water known to the world. Bottled in a unique 750 ml clear glass bottle designed by the famous Ferrari coach-maker Pininfarina
Speyside-Glenlivet Still (750ml)	$10
Speyside is drawn from the 500 million year old Braes of Glenlivet rock formation, situated inside the Crown Estate of Glenlivet. At a total mineral content of 58 mg/liter, it is light, slightly alkaline and virtually sodium-free and nitrate-free
Voss Sparkling (800ml)	$10
Voss artesian water comes from an aquifer in the pristine nature of Southern Norway. Naturally unfiltered and protected from pollutants by layers of rock and ice.
Badoit Sparkling (1000ml)	$12
Badoit is characterized by tiny carbonation bubbles and a smooth light taste, despite a very strong degree of mineralization. The annual output is limited, making Badoit one of the most sought-after brands among connoisseurs
Gerolsteiner Sparkling (1000ml)	$12
Drinking Gerolsteiner is the closest thing to taking mineral supplements. It is in the naturally carbonated classification, with the signature low pH associated with most of the high-TDS "nat carbs," and has been a famous health tonic since 1888
Vichy Catalan Sparkling (1000ml)	$12
Ancient water with an astonishing 3,052 milligrams per liter of Total Dissolved. There are no missing minerals or salts in Vichy. You get plenty of calcium, magnesium, sodium, potassium, bicarbonate, fluoride, and silica in this medicinal potion
